The Canadian Academy of Audiology

Read the newly released issue of the CanadianAudiologist, the official publication of the Canadian Academy of Audiology (CAA). Among some of the articles we have:

- Connecting those with hearing loss to surgical centres when hearing aids are not enough
- The effects of shooting glasses on earmuff attenuation
- Pricing in Audiology
- Successful transition to Kindergarten for deaf and hard of hearing students
- How an eggshell membrane fed a German ENT family
- Optimizing Listening and Spoken Language Outcomes: What Audiologists (and Families) should expect from early interventionists
- Sounds disrupt balance in people with vestibular disorders

We also have well thought-out columns in areas where you may not normally tread. In short, this issue of CanadianAudiologist.ca has something for everyone.

I hope you are enjoying the snow and it's not too early to begin planning for our annual conference of the Canadian Academy of Audiology Oct 15-18 in Collingwood, Ontario. (Actually there is a neat Pre-con of Wednesday Oct. 14)!

Invitation to Participate in Survey on Status of Early Hearing Services Following the Newborn Period

The Coalition for Global Hearing Health Hearing Care Pathways Working Group (a multi-national working group) has reached out to the Canadian Infant Hearing Task Force to ask for input from Canadian audiologists. They are conducting a survey to understand the status of services available for detection and intervention of hearing loss after the newborn period and up to the age of 17 yrs.

The deadline for input is March 1st, 2025. Please consider completing one of their two surveys (linked below):
